Eastside Office Market Report

General Overview

Bellevue CBD continues to outpace the balance of Puget Sound's office market by a wide margin while Seattle remains sluggish. Due to its elite labor pool, quality of living and large block availability, the Bellevue CBD submarket is now experiencing an emergent AI driven office boom with recent expansions by OpenAI (280k SF) and Uber (170k SF) with more large lease transactions anticipated in 2026 from Databricks, AT&T and REI among others. Even though Bellevue CBD still boasts a generous availability rate of over 26% it is still achieving historically high lease rates for its best located, Class A office buildings. While we did see additional layoffs from Microsoft, T-Mobile and Meta in Q1, Bellevue saw ~12% job growth in 2025 and Amazon continues its pursuit to ultimately have ~25,000 employees in Bellevue over the next few years.

Eastside's suburban markets, notably Bellevue I-90 and Bothell, remain quiet with availability high but leveling off. Improved tech-office performance continues to provide portions of the Eastside with decent market recovery but not everywhere. Even with Bellevue CBD's current activity level increasing, there remains notable opportunity and value throughout the Eastside if you know where to look and how best to engage.

Economy

Data from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that Washington State's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate edged up to 5.0%, exceeding the national average of 4.3%. Within the Seattle-Tacoma-Bellevue metro area, unemployment also trended higher, climbing from 5.1% in November 2025 to 5.9% by January 2026.
